THE OUTSTANDING TEACHER PROGRAMME (OTP)

Designed and facilitated by experienced school leaders and teachers, the Outstanding Teacher Programme gives good (and outstanding) teachers a set of high level skills and strategies that enable them to become consistently and sustainably outstanding. It helps them to:-

- Demonstrate higher level understanding of teaching and improve learning for their pupils.
- Coach colleagues in their own school and in other schools to raise performance levels.
- Create a proactive school culture where the quality of teaching and learning is observed, discussed, challenged and enhanced.
- Increase the job satisfaction and create opportunities for further leadership and career progression.

The programme is a key part of school-to-school support which is helping to increase capacity and drive up standards in schools. Among many benefits, this programme helps teachers to become consistently outstanding in all their professional activities and have a significant impact on how people achieve.

This programme:-

- Provides in-depth coaching to deepen teachers' understanding of outstanding classroom practice. Participants improve through facilitated practice activities as structured opportunities to reflect on teaching approaches and their quality and impact.
- Introduces and consolidates new knowledge and skills, and focuses on what makes teaching and learning outstanding.
- Requires learning 3s to prepare and present at an outstanding level to the whole delegate group for evaluation against DR ICE.
- Forms part of the school's professional development provision as this supports the implementation of agreed best practice and national agendas.
- Provides strong input on the progression against the professional standards of excellence and advanced skills teachers. This programme is crucial for teachers involved in developing Leadership in Teaching and Learning.

Eligibility

This programme is open to teachers with the potential and capacity to consistently deliver outstanding lessons. Applicants would need to demonstrate:-

- Strong commitment to teaching and learning and show that they are inspiring individuals with strong interpersonal skills and who are role models for pupils.

- Some external recognition (e.g. Threshold or Ofsted grades) that indicate that they have the ability to become outstanding teachers.
- A commitment to professional development and the ability to truly reflect on their practice, including using student feedback to evaluate the impact of their teaching.

THE OUTSTANDING TEACHER PROGRAMME (OTP)

Impact

A recent external evaluation of this programme, led by Peter Matthews, reports that participants become much more reflective about their teaching and much more aware of how to make their lessons consistently outstanding. This includes placing greater emphasis on: the purpose of the value of their lessons; raising levels of engagement in learning; the use of different teaching styles to challenge learning; greater readiness to innovate and take risks; and more reflective planning.

Most participants find the coaching element a highlight understanding the importance of the relationship between 'outstanding teaching' and 'professional coaching'. The impact of the programme is reinforced through independent assessments by schools using qualified inspectors or review teams.

Successful delegates have achieved more formal recognition in the form of Challenge Partner Subject Leaders (CPSL) and Specialist Leader in Education (SLE) accreditation. More informal achievements have been with endorsed Coaching qualifications or have achieved formal leadership positions in Teaching and Learning back in their own school.

Commitment

The programme consists of two full days and five half days facilitated sessions over a ten week period. Secondary schools need to release three teachers for the programme as coaching takes place in learning 3s; PRUs, primary and special schools prefer to release one teacher as members of the primary learning 3s can come from local cluster schools.

"Delivery was engaging and very well informed – very impressed by the pedagogical knowledge of the facilitators" Giles, Bradon Forest

"I feel I have developed the confidence to begin to take a leading role in improving Teaching & Learning in my school" Lucy, Shaftesbury School

"It has given me a confidence boost in my abilities as a teacher. I have ensured that pupils and progression remain the key focus to all that I do in the classroom" Sarah, St. Mary's Purton
